

Your dream nursery for less!

HGTV's design guru shares her smart splurges and great deals for baby's room

Splurge

"The key is transition—this crib converts from a bassinet to a toddler bed and finally transforms into two kid-sized chairs."

Stokke Sleepi Crib and Bassinet Set,
$1,000, giggle.com

"Invest in one set of bedding for long-lasting quality. This chic collection is gender neutral and 100% organic cotton."

DwellStudio Oval Organic Circles Crib Set,
$400, modernnursery.com

Save

"These whimsical Buddha nightlights are perfect for soft, ambient lighting, and each one has a special meaning."

Buddha Light in Happiness,
$30, rocketusa.com

"Great seating for mommy and baby is important. This glider is comfortable, easy to clean, and remarkably functional."

Storkcraft Tuscany Glider and Ottoman in Espresso and Beige, $186, walmart.com

"Baby stuff accumulates. I love the size, color, and finish choices of this system. The right configuration can double as seating."

IKEA Trofast Storage Combination,
$55, available at IKEA

"The zig-zag shape of this wall shelf makes a fun statement while providing much needed storage for baby's library."

IKEA Lack Wall Shelf in White,
$30, ikea.com

"If an affordable, decorative item can also serve as a learning tool, then it's a win-win."

The ABCs Rug, from $129, landofnod.com

Krista Watterworth—expecting her second child in May—hosts the HGTV series Splurge and Save. She shows homeowners how to get the biggest bang for their buck by mixing designer pieces with retooled vintage items and affordable knock-offs. Look for her design tips at roomrecipes.com.